

VICARIOUS TRAUMA TRAINING FOR EDUCATORS

Through support from the Department of Education, the Center for the Prevention of Child Maltreatment in partnership with the University of South Dakota School of Health Sciences developed the Child & Adult Advocacy Studies (CAAST) Training Program. Children's Home Society will assist in offering Vicarious Trauma Training for Educators at no expense to South Dakota education professionals.

Schedule a free training for your school today using the QR code below!

To schedule Vicarious Trauma Training:

Tifanie Petro, Advocacy and Prevention Program Director
Children's Home Society of South Dakota
Tifanie.Petro@chssd.org | 605-484-2620

To learn more about the CAASt program:

Tracy Thomes, CAASt Program Coordinator
Center for the Prevention of Child Maltreatment
Tracy.Thomes@usd.edu | 605-357-1377

OF SOUTH DAKOTA

Training Objectives

1

Understand the risk of indirect exposure to trauma.

2

Discuss the ethical imperative of self-care.

3

Recognize vicarious traumatization in an educational setting.

4

Identify coping strategies that contribute to health and well-being.

5

Develop personal strategies to strengthen resilience.

6

Discuss the elements of an organizational care plan.